WHY SPONSORS MATTER

Your financial contributions would help to cover the costs for activities such as: opening ceremony, closing ceremony and awards program, medals/plaques, competitions, and leadership/networking events. Please note that SkillsUSA South Carolina is a non-profit 501(c)(3). In addition to monetary support, we need individuals who might be available to serve as judges for various competitive events. Please be assured that your contribution is an investment in the future workforce of America – specifically South Carolina. SkillsUSA students are focused and dedicated to their chosen career path, and they deserve the same opportunities that other states provide to their students.

SkillsUSA provides the framework to develop leaders

WHO WE ARE

SkillsUSA is a national organization for students, educators, business and community members who are dedicated to promoting the mission of career and technology education. SkillsUSA has over 350,000 members in the United States, three territories, and the District of Columbia. This organization provides secondary and post-secondary students the occupational, academic and employability skills that they will need to make a meaningful contribution to the future of America's way of life.

LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

SkillsUSA offers opportunities to develop both student and professional leaders. The Washington Leadership Institute (WLTI) gives student leaders the opportunity to go to Washington, DC to learn about the inner workings of our federal government and make Hill visits to their senators and representatives. The State Fall Leadership Conference (SFLC) provides all SkillsUSA SC student and professional members with basic leadership skills that they can utilize when they return to their school and CTE classroom. Additional training is delivered to State Officers.

STATE LEADERSHIP AND SKILLS COMPETITIONS

The South Carolina chapters of SkillsUSA will sponsor the annual State Leadership and Skill Competition (SLSC) in Columbia and in Greenville. The Gold Medal winners will advance to the National Leadership and Skills Competition (NLSC). In order for these conferences to be successful, we must rely
